Amherst Regional High School has a decades-long reputation for excellence in youth ultimate in the North East. The 2016 boys version is excited to attend the Paideia Cup and play their part in one of the most storied rivalries in youth ultimate. The 2016 team features 12 seniors, 8 juniors, and 1 sophomore, with 8 players having received invites to USAU's U19 national team tryouts over the winter. Though no ARHS boys player was selected for the final roster, the Canes will be strengthened by a core of high-level experienced players, leadership, and Team play. The Canes are led by 3rd-year coaches Joe Costello, and Paideia's own, Leila Tunnell.

PiCup Notes: This is ARHS's 7th trip to the Cup. Welcome back, Amherst!
